WILDERNESS CANOE TRIP OUTFITTING

From planning to packing, Algonquin Outfitters can help with every aspect of your canoe trip. Partial Outfitting allows you to rent a canoe and/or extra pieces of equipment. Complete Outfitting allows you to show up with your personal gear and find all your food and equipment ready to go.

Complete outfitting is ideal for people without the time, experience and/or equipment to put together their own wilderness trip. Our packages include all the camping and canoeing equipment you need for an enjoyable trip, as well as a nourishing, delicious menu designed for wilderness travel. For those that prefer to set their own menu, we offer an "equipment only" package. If you have all the gear but don't have time to shop, take advantage of our popular "food only" package.

Types of equipment and menu plans vary with each package. For full details, see the package descriptions on our website. For most, you need only bring your own clothing and personal items. We supply canoeing equipment and prepare and pack all food and camping supplies. Our custom menu sets Algonquin Outfitters' outfitting apart from the rest.

The most valuable part of our outfitting service is the training, advice and help that our experienced guides and outfitters will give when custom tailoring your trip, route and equipment to your abilities and desires.

Prices shown to the right are for trips starting at our Oxtongue Lake store. Rates vary depending on which outfitting base is used and the length of the trip. All complete outfitting rates, except Solo and Sea Kayak Outfitting, are based on a minimum of two in a party, with a minimum two-day charge. Camping permits are extra. Outfitting descriptions, canoe rental information and detailed outfitting rates can be found at www.algonquinoutfitters.com. Scout and youth group leaders should ask about our special discounted rates for non-profit youth groups.
